The curriculum is listed in their catalog, but is not currently on their website.

This program is a collection of 220 lesson plans and is written for students ages 5 - 18 who have mild or moderate cognitive disability. The segments are quite detailed, including specifically orchestrated and appropriate questions to facilitate follow-up discussions. Other components of the curriculum are lesson plans on the liturgical year and prayer services. The plans were developed so that they might be used for pull-out time for students who are unable to stay in a regular classroom. The curriculum could also be used to home school children.

Sacraments: Gifts for All Available for Baptism, Reconciliation, Eucharist and Confirmation. A very solid resource developed by the Network of Inclusive Catholic Educators, Institute for Pastoral Initiatives, University of Dayton, Ohio. (888) 532-3389 or www.udayton.edu/~ipi/nice These four booklets published by the Center for Ministry with People with Disabilities of the University of Dayton. These booklets give catechists strategies to be used to teach students with mental disability in the regular religious education classroom. Using learning style theory and real life experience the authors show catechists how to adapt a lesson plan to suit the needs of the individual child or youth. The value of this approach is that regular parish catechetical programs is the basis for educating all. This can allow the child or youth with disabilities to be taught in either an inclusive classroom or in a separate situation.
